The Ivett Murder Case.

MERCED (Cal.), April 29.—In the Ivett murder case this morning five witnesses were examined.
They all testified that Willie Olsen, brother of defendant, while in the mountains last summer cut his hand severely. He wore at the time he cut his hand a pair of overalls, or a pair exactly the same as those the prosecution have claimed all through the trial to belong to August, and he also wore them the night Ivett was murdered.
The prosecution took two days to show that the blood was human blood on the overalls. Willie Olsen claims he got the blood on the pants when he cut his hand, and that August did not wear them at any time. This was one of the strongest points the prosecution had brought in.

An Explanation.

The Republican is in receipt of the following communication from the Pinkerton Detective Agency dated Denver, April 24th:

Dear Sir:—I note in a copy of the Territorial Enterprise, of Virginia City, Nev., dated April 17th, an article copied from your paper, which is headed, "A Pinkerton Man Caught." In this article it is stated that Thomas C. Hale, alias Thorn, who robbed White's faro bank, is a Pinkerton detective who went to Sacramento last February; that he hoped to get in on the "boodle racket" but got left and so was deserted by his employers; that in trying to get back to Chicago he reached Reno, where hard luck made him desperate; that only a portion of the money was recovered and that he is now in jail awaiting his trial.

I wish you would kindly publish in your paper the facts in this case. We admit that Thos. H.
Horn is one of our detectives and he is a man whose character is unimpeachable. As to the fact that Thos. Horn or any of our men were in Sacramento during the session of the Legislature, I would state that is untrue. We know that some person sent this statement broadcast but it was ra-tracted, as we thought, by every paper that had published it. Mr.
Horn was never in Sacramento in his life except in passing through there on the 6th or 7th of April on his way to Truckee and Reno on business. Mr. Horn was not broke, as he had in his possession on leaving Salem, Or., on the 4th of April, some three hundred ($300) dollars, money advanced him by this Agency on account of expenses, beside cash of his own; nor has the Agency deserted him as you will discover that, although he is held by the Justice, at Reno, he is out on bonds and good lawyers to defend him.

Although we have the utmost confidence in Mr. Horn, still we would take no steps to defend him until Asst. Supt. Fraser, of our Denver office, was sent to Reno to make an investigation; he discovered this as one of the many cases of mistaken identity which occur every day, not reflecting upon the witness who claimed to identify Mr. Horn; this being the case, we were then willing to defend an innocent man, which we are doing at the present time.

Yours truly,

WM. A. PINKERTON,
Gen'l Supt. Western Division.

What Slavin Says of Sullivan.

St. Louis (Mo.), April 29.— Having accomplished his mission Frank Slavin, accompanied by Dr.
John Dougherty of Philadelphia, left for New York last night.
Slavin and his friend secreted themselves at the hotel during the day, Slavin not even registering.
Just before boarding the train the Australian said: "I came here to arrange a fight with Sullivan. I was met fairly and squarely by him. We never met before, and I can say I was never met in a more manly and courageous manner.
Our interview has its point of regret to me, but on the whole I must be satisfied, for Sullivan's manner was much to impress me with his sincerity. "But is John L. going to fight again?" "No."
"And why?" "Sullivan is no longer in the ring. He declared himself, and said he had retired, and said he was bound by contracts for two years that prevented his returning to the ring in any event."

Brannan-Sullivan.

The match noticed in yesterday's issue between the above mentioned, is to be to a finish, Marquis of Queensbury rules for $250 a side, and only five men on each side will be present. The fight will take place in Genoa on May 9th.

Mike Sullivan, of Genoa, is considered a particularly hard rough-and-tumble fighter, but is not looked upon as a scientific man.
It is here that Brannan will have the advantage.

There has been bad blood between the men, and it will be for blood from the jump.

A Shocking Accident.

Foreman James Davis of the Derbec gravel mine at North Bloomfield met with a terrible accident Sunday, says the Nevada City Herald, which will probably prove fatal. He was descending the shaft on the cage, which has two compartments. Davis was on the lower deck, and on the the upper deck were several men who were taking tools down into the mine. By some mishap a drill was dropped by one of the men.
It fell over the edge of the cage to the lower compartment, and and caught on the timbering of the shaft in such a way as to catch Davis under the left arm, passing upward through his shoulder coming out of his neck. The unfortunate man was thus impaled on the side of the shaft, while the upper floor of the descending cage almost instantly struck the top of his head and crushed him down, tearing the drill off his shoulder and smashing his head. When the stage left Bloomfield the unfortunate man was still alive.

A Boneless Boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Stark, who reside on Montgomery street, have a little son four years old who is a natural curiosity. He seems to be boneless or, if he has bones, they they are rubber-like. He cannot stand, for his little legs are too limber to support his body, and his weight is from twenty-five to thirty pounds. He can scratch the back of his head with his feet and can sleep with his head between his legs. He can roll himself into a ball and is a wonderful contortionist. His parents came from Oregon, and they think the little fellow will eventually be able to walk.—Oroville Mercury.

At the annual meeting of the tery Water Works, April 13, 1891, it was Resolved, that all persons present season will be required to 7, 1891, for the season of five months from May 1, to October 1.
